JARED BARHITE'S RAWHIDE ÖSED MOST VIGOROUSLY UPON LITTLE

SAMMY M'INTYRE'S LEGS, hus Arousing the Highteous Indignation of the Hon. Fred L. Westbrook, who Used Finin Language to the School Teacher— Action of the Kingston Board of Education. KINGSTON, Dec. 24.—This city is exercised over trouble in Public School No. 11. The principal dramatis persons are Principal Jared Bartite, little Sammy McIntyre, and the Hon. Fred L. Westbrook of the Board of Education The school has had the reputation of being hard on the teachers, on account of unruly pupils. A Miss Boice was one of the first teachers; she had to give up the school. Then Miss Bevier, daughter of Supervisor Bevier, undertook to manage it; she resigned. Principal Frear tried it, and gave it up as a bad job. Principal Hull of Ellenville, although a teacher of experience, was forced to resign. Then Mr. Jared Barhite, who for seven years had been a successful teacher in Cold Springs, accepted the situation.

Principal Barbite says: "There are about 300 pupils in the school, in eight departments. In my room are fifty boys and girls, averaging 14 or 15 years each. The other pupils are younger. The very day I took charge the first trouble began. I had hardly done telling the pupils what I hoped to do with their assistance, when, in less than an hour, a miss refused to request permission to go home, and because I wouldn't let her go without asking permission. she took her books and left, and went at once to Mr. Westbrook with a complaint. The next time I met him on the street he gave me a tremendous tongue lashing. Well, I made a rule that the boys must use one entrance to the school building, the girls the other. Within a week Mr. Westbrook's little daughter came in by the boys' door, and said: My papa is a member of the Board of Education, and he says that I can go through the boys' door. I said: Your papa is not the Board of Education, and while I'm teacher don't you dare to go through that door. The result was another tongue lashing in the streets, when Mr. Westbrook used the foulest language I ever had used to me. He took his daughter out of the school, saying: I'll not send my daughter to you. You are a vindictive cuss, and I won't trust her to your charge. Ten days later he said to me that his little girl was crying to come back, but. — you, said he. I'm afraid you'll vent your spleen on her because we have had a quarrel.' I answered that I should be sorry to think so meanly of him as he apparently did of me. He came to the school on the 18th of April, complaining that I had punished a child too severely, basing his complaint on the fact that I had gone out of my own from to dit, which he claimed was in violation of a rule of the Board of Education. He said to me, I have another child, a pupil in this school under another teacher, and if you ever dare to hay your hand upon him to correct him in any way, right or wrong, and I should hear of it, though a thousand miles away, I would come to this school house and lay you out, by —!" Then." continued the teacher. "came the rebellion. I happened to overhear some of the Board on whip of any kind; no ferule, but there was a mahogany ruler that we used in the drawing class. It was over three feet long, as wide as my three fingers, and half as thick. I laid it back of my chair. A bludgeon, it is true, but the only thing I had, I awaited developments. I didn't have to wait long. One of the boys became unruly. I called him up. He was sauev. I talked with him: he was defant, and I said I should have to punish time I met him on the street he gave me a tremendous tongue lashing. Well. I made a rule chool prospered.

"On the 7th of this month Miss De Puy, the school prospered.

"On the 7th of this month Miss De Puy, the teacher in one of the departments, sent me word that Sammy Melntyre was unmanageable. I went up to the room, and taiked with the boy. He was a bad boy, and continually gave her much trouble. I whipped him with a rawhide about fifteen inches long. I gave him eight or nine strokes on his legs. He went away shaking his head and muttering. I called him back and gave him as many more blows, perhaps harder than the first. The next day, just before moon, Mr. Westbrook came into my school room, and, in the presence of the pupils, charged me with brutality in whipping the boy, said that I was a brute and a failure, and that he would have me brought before the Recorder. He was very abusive. When he was gone I turned to the pupils and said: You heard what Mr. Westbrook said. Am I a brute? No, sir, they repeated. Then they went home. When I returned after dinner and entsred the room the pupils were all there, and when they saw me some one should. Three cheers for Mr. Barhito! and then the cheers were given with a will."

On Friday night, Dec. 10, there was a special

Icharce that the language he frequently addresses to the backers in Board meeting is insulting and beneath the dignity of a gentleman.

Then he made a speech, in which he said:

It is beyond a teacher's power to maintain discipline when unruly boys are imbued with the belief that, whatsoever their misdeeds, they are sure of the championship of a distinguished citizen, a member of the Board of Education, and a lawyer of great ability. Gentlemen, I can't bear the burdens of my school with F. L. Westbrook riding at the back of all the bad boys, sustaining their wrong doings. One of two things must be done, and at once; either such hindrances upon the part of a trustee must be withdrawn or eise I must cease work in your school room. Before my publishe has violently denounced me as a brute, as knowing nothing, as a despicable failure."

The Board seemed interested in what Mr. Barhite said, and when he finished President Ridenour asked Mr. Westbrook if he had anything to say. The lawyer chewed the butt of a cligar vigorously, stroked his long white beard, and said. "I think, Mr. President, that I can trust my own judgment to know, if not what to cas, at least when to say it." Then began some fine sparring between Trustees Hayes and Westbrook and the President. It culminated in the offering of a resolution by Trustee Hayes:

Reselved, That the Board does hereby most emphatically deny the right of any of its members to assume or to constitute himself with the power or presume to constitute himself with the power or presume to exercise the right of any of its members to assume or to constitute himself with the power or presume to exercise any test of central gany of the achoest under the management of the schools under the management of the children of one of its members and abuse teachers in publisher, coportunities to assist any teachers to produce of the children over whom they have been placed by the Board.

"Why don't you have the manliness to point out the individual wipo has done all these ated and debased in the presence of the children over whom they have been placed by the Board.

"Why don't you have the manliness to point out the individual who has done all these wrong things?" asked Mr. Westbrook from behind his cigar.

"Don't alarm yourself." answered Mr. Hayes hotly. "The public will not mistake the trustee. I had hoped that I should not be obliged to offer that resolution, though I can wouch for the justice of every assertion contained therein. Of my own knowledge I can testify that Mr. Barhite had not been teaching an our schools a fortnight before he was attacked by the trustee referred to, and publicly berated as I never heard any being berated before. Are we a set of ninnies to sit here and allow such actions to pass by unnoticed? If we do, we are recreant to the trust imposed with us by the people; we are false to the best interests of our schools and we deserved disgrace. I have good reason to believe every statement Mr. Barhite has made to-night; I do not believe he has overstated anything. Let us be men and put ourselves on record for decency and right."

said: 'Your punishment of him was brutal.'
He answered in a voice that could have been heard all over the room: 'Mr. Westbrook, your course in the Board has been injurious to my school. My boys say that whatever they do you will protect them.' I replied: I will intercede for them if they be outraged. I will see to it that no pupil is tortured by assaults from a violent man.' I further said to him that he had falled to manage the school as it should be managed. Nothing was said about his knowing nothing—my opinion on that point has not yet been expressed.

"I saw the boy and his wounds. His legs were marked with livid stripes, and in two places the akin was broken and the blood oozed out. The little fellow was in such a state that when I asked to see the wounds he burst into convulsive cobs, and could not be quieted. I care not what the boy may have done in the school, nothing will justify a man in so brutally punishing him."

The resolution was put to vote, and seven trustees voted for it. Trustees Westbrook and Phinney did not vote. After the voting Mr. Westbrook asid:

"This action has no weight or influence with me. I shall do what I think is right without trustees voted for it. Trustees Westbrook and Phinney did not vote. After the voting Mr. Westbrook said:

"This action has no weight or influence with me. I shall do what I think is right without regard to the opinions of the members of this Board, and if ever I hear of a case similar to that of Sammy McIntyre—a case so well founded—I shall upon my own responsibility and alone take such action in the premises as I may myself deem demanded; and you may style me a member of the Board of Education or not, as you please. And if the provocation proves so great as in this case I shall be far less mild than I have been in this."

Sammy McIntyre was visited by your correspondent on Tuesday, just one week after he was flogred. He is a siender little fellow, 12 years of age, and he doesn't look like a bad boy, He described his naughtiness in achool, which consisted of sauciness to his teacher. "Then Mr. Barhite came up," said the boy. "He had a rawhide about three feet long, and he whipped me twice with it. When he got through I didn't have a button left on my coat and vest, for he took me by the coat coliar and shook me. I had on these pantaloons and drawers." Then the boy showed his elender legs. They were even at that time striped from hips to knees with black and blue wells that were plainly visible, and in two pinces, were sears where the blood had been drawn. Mr. Wostbrook was present. "Imagine the effect of such a flogging in the presence of forty or fifty little girls and boys," he said. "Wiy, the little girls were many of them terribly frightened, and went home sobbing and crying. We haven't got through with this case yet by any means. I shall bring it up before the Board again at the regular meeting the last Monday in this month, and then we'll see, Whether Mr. McIntyre takes legal steps against Mr. Barhite will depend upon the action of the Board."

THE ADVANCE ON LIMA.

Exedus from the City-The Chilinns Meeting with Little Opposition. PANAMA, Dec. 16 .- The steamship Santiago has arrived from Chimbote. The exodus from Lima still continues, the Santiago bringing over four hundred passengers from Ancon to the northern ports of Peru. The principal families of Lima are leaving the threatened capital precipitately, taking with them whatever valuables they can carry. Large amounts of jewelry and coin have been placed on board the shannon and other foreign war vessels, and the better dwellings are stripped of their more valuable furniture, which is shipped north to places of safety. But few families, and those of the poorer classes, will await the advent of the Chilians. Several hulks in Callao Bay have been fitted up as places of resuge for a number of foreign families; but a question has arisen regarding their employment for such a purhulks must leave the bay, and have ordered them off. The Chilians say if they leave the waters of the bay they will seize them. Hence the consternation among persons who have taken refuge in them at great expense, and fitted and furnished them as the dwellings of their families. The foreign Ministers and commanders of foreign war vessels have had a conference on the subject, the result of which is awaited with anxiety. It is believed that the hulks, as foreign property, will be protected. The Chilian invading force is still at Pisco, Tomolo de Mora, and Chincha, and has been reduferced by 2,000 men from Arica, probably part of the expedition just returned from the north of Peru. The second division of the expeditionary force is daily expected, when a move forward is looked for. Nothing is said of the three Peruvian divisions sent south to oppose the Chilians advance. Several haciendas near Pisco have been plundered and destroyed. The capital of the department, Ica, has also been visited by the Chilians, and it is reported that the town was piliaged. Although a considerable Peruvian force was quartered there, the 3,500 Chilians who sacked it appear to have met no resistance. the consternation among persons who have

'On Friday night, Dec. 10, there was a special meeting of the Board of Education called by request of Principal Barhite, who desired to ascertain whether the Board upheld Mr. Westbrook. It was carrying the war into Africa. Mr. Barhite presented a written statement of his version, concluding as follows:

CASHIER BERRY AGAIN INDICTED.

The Grand Jury in Hackensack Charging him with Perjury.

The Grand Jury of Bergen County, N. J., entered the court room in Hackensack yesterday morning, and handed three indictments to Judge Dixon, with the statement that the jurors had concluded their labors for the term. They were discharged. One of the indictments was against Cashier John J. Berry, charging him with perjury on the 28th of February, in swearing to the statement of the condition of the Bank of Bergen County which he made to the Secretary of State. Mr. Berry was arraigned. Secretary of State. Mr. Berry was arraigned, and he pleaded not guilty. The President of the bank, Judge Garret G. Ackerson, made oath to the correctness of the same entement, but no presentment was made in his case. The law requires wilful and corrupt motives to constitute criminal perjury. Berry is the only person connected with the broken banks who has been indicted. Against him there are eleven presentments. It is now said that his counsel will apply for a change of venue, which will carry the case to the Supremo Court, and postpone the trial until the April term. The trial of Congressman Voorhis, indicted for embezglement from the First National Bank, of which he was Freeident, is set down for Tuesday next.

Policeman Doorly of Jersey City, while passing through Sixth street yesterday morning, was star-tied by hearing the cry, "Murder! She will kill her children!" "I will have the blood and bread of Christi. I'll have more," she cried. The policeman was satisfied that the woman was insane, since raved about her husband. She is 25 years of age, and the youngest of her children is only 5 months old. Her husband has been in Baltimore for some time, and because he was unable to spend the holidays with her she imagined that he had deserted her. The children have been put in charge of the Overseer of the Poor until the lusband can return.

the close of last month, a peasant laborar murdered his wife, and then gave himself into the custody of the police. Investigation showed that the man had been without shelter and almost without food for two months, during which time his wife gave birth to a child, that remained without medical attendance or food. Not even the protection against the inclement winter was how-ever, long allowed them, for the owner of the barn, coming along, turned them out on the road. Then the peasant grew desperate and crazed. He knelt down beside his sick wife, prayed, and then, with a hoe and a lack-knife, put an end to her life. Suffering like this is not frequent in some of the country districts of Prussia and Austria, and they equal anything experienced in Ireland, though they do not so often come to the public ear.

OFFICES OF MAY & KING, 33 Broad et. JAMESON, SMITH & COTTING, 12 WALL SE. SCOTT & LEAVITY, 24 Broad at.

We are authorized to receive subscriptions for a limited nount (not exceeding $2,000,000) of the capital stock of THE IRON STEAMBOAT OF .'ANY, shares of one hundred dollars each. This company is building, and will have in readiness for the coming summer season, a large fleet of iron ateambats, especially adapted for the requirements of passengers; of great speed, constructed in the most substantial manner, non-combustible, and with numerous water manner, non-combination, and with numerous watertight compartments, which will render them incapable of sinking. Contrasted with the ordinary wooden steamboats, they cannot fall to command, at highly remunerative rates, the patronage of the great majority of the tive rates, the patronage of the great majority of the travelling public.

The company has entered into contracts extending over a term of years, under which it has acquired the exclusive right to convey passengers from New York and its vicinity to the Iron Pier at Coney Island, and a similar exclusive right to convey passengers to Coney Island in connection with one of the leading railroads to that place. In view of the vast number of people who visit this famous summer resort. It is evident that a line of steamboats possessing these exclusive privileges, con-structed in such manner as to command the highest de-gree of public confidence, and furnished in response to an urgent public demand, must at once prove very profitable.

The contracts already entered into will insure to this company from the outset a business limited only by its capacity, and arrangements are in course of completion with the Erie and Pennsylvania Railroad Companies, under which it will acquire, in addition, a large and proftable excursion business. The company will extend its operations as rapidly as exclusive and profitable connec-company to utilize its boats in Southern waters, so far as they can be profitably employed.

The company is organised under the laws of New Jersey, and subscribers to the stock will incur no liability beyond the obligation to pay the amount of their sub

We recommend this investment as one promising large returns and well worthy the attention and confidence of the most careful investors.

Each subscriber will receive for every $1,000 of stock silotted and paid for Pirst Mortgage Bonds of the Company (bearing interest at 6 per cent.) to the amount of $250.

The terms of the enhacription are as follows: 10 per cent on allotment, 10 per cent. Feb. 2, 1881, 10 per cent. March 2, 1881, 10 per cent April 2, 1881,

10 per cent. May 2, 1881,
10 per cent. May 2, 1881,
and the remainder in installments of not exceeding 10 per cent. on twenty days' notice previously given. Recepts will be given for each payment, and the Bonds and Certificates of Stock will be issued upon the payment of Subscriptions will be received at the offices of either of

TEETH made or repaired while waiting; extracting 25c; with gas, 50c; filling, 50c, 429 Canal, cor. Variet. THE SUN FOR 1881

Everybody reads THE SUN. In the editions of this newspaper throughout the year to come everybody will find: I. All the world's news, so presented that the reader will get the greatest amount of informa-tion with the least unprofitable expenditure of time and eyosight. The Sun long ago discovered the golden mean between redundant fulness and unsatisfactory brevity.

II. Much of that sort of news which depends less upon its recognized importance than upon its interest to mankind. From morning to morning THE SUN prints a continued story of the lives of real men and women, and of their deeds, plans, loves, hates, and troubles. This story is more varied and more interesting than any romance that was ever devised. III. Good writing in every column, and freshness, originality, accuracy, and decorum in the treatment of every subject.

IV. Honest comment. THE SUN's habit is to speak out fearlessly about men and things. V. Equal candor in dealing with each political party, and equal readiness to commend what is praiseworthy or to rebuke what is biamable in Demograt or Republican.

VI. Absolute independence of partisan organizations, but unwavering loyalty to true democratic principles. The Sun believes that the Government which the Constitution gives us is a good one to keep. Its notion of duty is to resist to its utmost power the efforts of men in the Republican party to set up another form of government in place of that which exists. The year 1881 and the years immediately following will probably decide this supremely important contest. The Sun believes that the victory will be with the people as against the Rings for monopoly, the Rings for plunder, and the Rings for imperial power.

be men and put ourselves on record for decency and right."

Then Mr. Westbrook arose, laid aside his sigar, and spoke to the resolution. He referred to the part he had played for the pasthirty-five years in regard to the public schools in Kingson. He dehounced Trustee Hayes as unanaly, as altogether deficient in moral courage, because he dare not name the man whom he assailed in the resolution. The mover him self does not believe the allogations embodied and staper, he said. If he does he is a base hypocrite." Then he answered Principal Barhitos charges, and concluded: "That visit to No. 11 was in the interest of a pupil who I believe was outraged. And gentlemen, understand ms. whenever a child shall make an appeal to me I shall not vainly callon me for an advocate. But understand, I used no profamity in the presence of this man's school as he alleges.

"On Wednesday, Mr. Meintyre came to me and told me of the outrage that had been perpetrated on his little son. I was indignant. My blood boiled. The father told me he intended to carry to the row me and told me of the outrage that had been perpetrated on his little son. I was indignant. My blood boiled. The father told me he intended to carry to the row me and told me of the outrage that had been perpetrated on his little son. I was indignant. My blood boiled.
